

(1) A start command is sent through BEMOSS

(2) A single-board computer receives the command and executes instructions

(3) A motor driver, controlled by the single-board computer, drives the motor

(4) DC motor rotates in predetermined direction